

STRICKLAND BROCKINGTON LEWIS LLP

Strickland Brockington Lewis is a small firm that consistently achieves big results for its clients.

REPRESENTING EDUCATIONAL institutions, the State of Georgia and businesses, Strickland Brockington Lewis LLP is a small firm that achieves big results for its clients.

Frank Strickland's practice in Atlanta spans 40 years, with a special emphasis in the areas of higher education, election law and mediation. He is recognized as a major contributor to the rise of the Georgia Republican Party and for his efforts to ensure civil legal representation for the poor, including service as Chairman of the Legal Services Corporation Board. Peggy Brockington specializes in school, college and charter school law, employment law and litigation. She chairs the State Bar's School and College Section and the Atlanta Bar's Labor and Employment Section.

Anne Lewis litigates election-related matters, provides redistricting counsel and serves as General Counsel to the Georgia Republican Party. Jonathan Poole's litigation practice focuses on employment and education matters and class actions. He is active in the State Bar Young Lawyers Division. Bryan Tyson, a former Georgia General Assembly and Congressional staffer, provides counsel to clients regarding both state and federal government issues and also focuses on appellate advocacy.

STRICKLAND
 BROCKINGTON LEWIS LLP
 Midtown Proscenium Suite 2200
 1170 Peachtree Street NE
 Atlanta, GA 30309
 P: (678) 347-2200 • F: (678) 347-2210
 sbllaw.net

BRYAN P.
 TYSON

JONATHAN R.
 POOLE

ANNE W.
 LEWIS*

MARY M. "PEGGY" BROCKINGTON*

FRANK B.
 STRICKLAND*

*CHOSEN TO 2011 SUPER LAWYERS®

CHOSEN TO 2011 RISING STARS